

Limit your aggressive driving to the couch.

Not the road.

When you play video games it's okay to drive fast, tailgate and cut people off. But in the real world, driving's not a game. It's a privilege.

In Delaware, motorists charged with aggressive driving could be fined between $100 and $300 and/or face 10 to 30 days in jail.

They must also complete a behavior modification driving class. So always drive safely. And if you see anyone driving aggressively, whether they're speeding, tailgating, or running stop signs or red lights, call 9-1-1.

For more information,
call (302) 744-2740.

